

Morris Island Lighthouse

Not ours but somewhere near not light not fog not waves but paper a memory we didn't make separate from the spices in our hands (they stung our tongues) separate from the rain on our hair our arms wrapped separate from your length on my sheets pressing (searing)

so close